

Workshop on Climate and Energy Strategy

The Swiss municipality of Muri bei Bern aims to draft a climate and energy strategy and to involve the municipal council in the development process at an early stage.

We assisted the municipality in designing and implementing a half-day workshop with representatives of the municipal council and other stakeholders. The workshop enabled the participants to gain a common understanding of the strategy's significance for the municipality of Muri bei Bern and to discuss fundamental issues such as strategic goals and system boundaries.
